NEWS

Illegal perlemoen trade booming despite anti-poaching efforts

Spike in Bay incidents linked to reopening of international export markets

One of Algoa Bay's most valuable resources is being poached and plundered at an alarming rate.

Nelson Mandela Bay has experienced a string of perlemoen-related incidents over the past few days, with experts in the field saying the illegal trade of this protected shellfish is now at an all-time high...

This article is reserved for HeraldLIVE subscribers.

A subscription gives you full digital access to all our content.

Already subscribed? Simply sign in below.

Already registered on DispatchLIVE, BusinessLIVE, TimesLIVE or SowetanLIVE? Sign in with the same details.

SUBSCRIBE

SIGN IN

Questions or problems? Email helpdesk@heraldlive.co.za or call 0860 52 52 00.