GREAT KNOCK ... Divan la Cock scored 66 runs off only 43 balls for Namibia in their seven-run defeat to Zimbabwe on Tuesday.

Oh so close, Namibia!

• HELGE SCHÜTZ

THE Namibian Eagles came desperately close to beating Zimbabwe in their first ever T20 international in Bulawayo on Tuesday, but eventually fell seven runs short.

In a gripping encounter, Namibia did well to restrict Zimbabwe to 153 runs for four wickets off their 20 overs, and then seemed set for victory after a great start by Divan la Cock and Craig Williams.

Namibia, however, lost the key wicket of La Cock with five overs to go, and with the pressure building in the final overs they eventually fell seven runs short, reaching 146 for five wickets.

Zimbabwe won the toss and elected to bat, getting off to a steady start as Regis Chakabva and Wesley Madhevere shared an opening stand of 34 runs off only four overs.

Namibian left-arm spinner Bernard Scholtz got the breakthrough, dismissing Madhevere for 23, as he skied a catch to Gerhard Erasmus in the covers, and then two overs later bowled Chakabva for 15 with a brilliant ball that turned sharply.

At 44 for two wickets, Zimbabwe were in a tight spot, but captain

Craig Ervine and Sikandar Raza revived their innings with a fine partnership as they steadily raised the run rate.

Ervine, especially looked in fine form, hitting Scholtz for a six, while Raza hit a six off La Cock, as they brought up their 50 partnership off only 36 balls.

Raza brought up their hundred with a single off David Wiese in the 14th over and Namibian captain Gerhard Erasmus finally got the breakthrough in the 16th over when he trapped Raza lbw for 37 off 30 balls (2x4, 1x6), with the total at 115.

Milton Shumba followed shortly for 4 after to a great diving catch by Erasmus off Pikky ya France's bowling, but Ervine and Ryan Burl took Zimbabwe to a competitive 153/4, with Ervine remaining unbeaten on 55 off 39 balls (3x4, 3x6) and Burl not out on 7.

Scholtz was Namibia's best bowler, taking 2/19, while Ya France took 1/14 and Erasmus 1/15.

In their run chase, La Cock and Williams gave Namibia a great start as they put on 67 runs off 9, 1 overs for the first wicket.

Williams was the first to go, caught in the covers off Mavuta's bowling for 25 off 34 balls (2x4), and although Erasmus was dismissed shortly after for 3, Namibia were still well set at 73/2 with nine overs in hand.

Especially La Cock was growing in stature, hitting some fine boundaries, but Nicol Loftie Eaton was needlessly stumped for 9, chasing a wide ball, and when Shumba got the prize wicket of La Cock, caught in the covers for 66 off 43 balls (3x4, 5x6), Zimbabwe were right back in the match, with Namibia at 119/4 and three overs remaining.

Zane Green and David Wiese tried to reach the target but the momentum had shifted Zimbabwe's way and after Green was dismissed for 19, Wiese was restricted to 14 not out as Namibia reached 146/5, still seven runs short of the target.

Shumba was Zimbabwe's stand-out bowler, taking 3/16, while Tendai Chatara took 1/25 and Brandon Mavuta 1/20.

Despite losing the match, it was a fine effort by Namibia which will give them hope for the rest of the series.

The second T20 match is scheduled for this afternoon.

JOHN AKWENYE

On behalf of the Board, management and staff, it is with great sadness that we learned of the passing of Mr John Akwenye, a long-serving Director of Orano Mining Namibia. He was appointed on the Board (previously AREVA) on 2 September 2008, and served diligently until his last day.

Mr Akwenye, a retired lawyer, brought with him a wealth of business development experience to the company, and his valuable input and warm friendship will be missed. He shall be remembered for the immense contribution that he made to the development of the mining sector to provide positive input to national economic development.

We extend our sincerest condolences to Mr Akwenye's family, friends and colleagues and may his soul rest in eternal peace.

Botes court case: Mixed victories in Mclean

■ Roland Routh

Deputy Chief Justice and Judge President Petrus Damaseb on Tuesday gave separate victories to two warring parties in a lawsuit involving a trust supposed to be for the benefit of vulnerable children.

While he on the one hand set aside a High Court judgement that awarded millions of dollars to the former director of the Michelle McLean Children's Trust, he also dismissed a counterclaim by McLean and three of the trustees for reimbursement of monies paid to him without authorisation.

Danie Botes took the trust to court after his contract was unilaterally terminated when it was discovered that he overpaid himself. The High Court found in his favour and ordered the trust to pay him for the remainder of his contract and pension monies owed to him for 19 years of service to the trust.

The trust then appealed that decision to the Supreme Court. On appeal, the Supreme Court found that the High Court erred when it concluded that Botes' contract was unlawfully repudiated. According to Judge Damaseb, with Judges Appeal Sylvester Mainga and Elton Hoff concurring, the trustees established on a balance of probabilities that Botes received unauthorised payments and that this conduct justified the termination of his contract.

The appeal judges also set aside an order of the High Court for a pension from 2005 until 2010 for Botes as according to them, it was lodged outside the timeframe of three years. They, however, found that he is entitled to his pension for the period not extinguished by the prescription.

Judge Damaseb described the trustees' role in the running of its affairs as lacklustre and lacking in diligence in the performance of their fiduciary duties. He said that it seemed that they had a lot of faith in him.

"The record amply and alarmingly demonstrates that they effectively left the running of the affairs of the trust to Mr Botes," Judge Damaseb stated.

He further said that the evidence showed that they hardly scrutinised the books and that McLean who should have known better accepted all the reports Botes presented to her. Had they been more diligent, the judge remarked, they would have established earlier that Botes was helping himself to funds from the trust that he was not entitled to and upholding their plea for reimbursement of the funds would be in a way to reward them for the failure.

He made no order as to costs.

The trust and the trustees were represented by Jean Marais SC and Raymond Heatcote and Botes by Michael Fitzgerald SC.

rrouth@nepc.com.na

Landless People's Movement Windhoek councillor Ivan Skrywer on Monday tabled an unopposed motion for the City to buy land and resettle land dispossessed communities who resided in and around Windhoek before colonialism.

This, Skrywer said, forms part of addressing colonial injustices that persist to this day.

Windhoek, according to Skrywer, was historically inhabited by the OvaHerero, /Khomani Damara and the Afrikaner Nama, making what is today the capital city, their ancestral land.

To address these past injustices, the city must recognise the historical fact that "the city lies on the ancestral land of the OvaHerero, /Khomani Damara and Afrikaner Nama communities".

Land for these communities, Skrywer added, is more than an economic commodity as it has been guided by their way of life for generations.

"Land dispossession still triumphs post-independent Namibia. The city expanded its borders in 2012 without the consultation of the inhabitants leaving them landless," he charged.

To redress this dilemma, he said: "I, therefore, implore this council to agree to purchase an agreed sizeable parcel of land in consultation with the aforementioned ethnic groups and look into the matter of City of Windhoek farms that are lease agreement contracts."

More so, the LPM firebrand also wants the three communities to be paid royalties derived from rates and taxes of each business and residential property within Windhoek.

Skrywer, however, is cognisant that the demarcations of yesteryear are different from today's geopolitical borders as "the traditional borders stretched beyond the current borders".

"The Ovaherero clans owned large tracts of land per clan as necessitated by the number of herds of cattle that they owned. Kahitjene wa Muhoko and his family and part of the Afrikaner Namas, for instance, lived where the current Eros Airport is located in Pionierspark," Skrywer narrated the history.

He continued: "Their land stretched as far as Gamsberg Pass, including the land where the main campus of the University of Namibia is located."

Wa Muhoko's eastern boundaries bordered Ehi ra Nguheva, today's Groot Aub Nguheva, co-inhabited with the /Khomani Damara.

"The ethnic groups were forcefully dislocated by [the] German regime from the city and the Ovaherero and Nama subsequently waged a war which resulted in the horrendous genocide. Despite the Damara not being targeted by the German extermination [order], the /Khomani Damara amongst others, live through the repercussions of the dislocation of contemporary Namibia," the councillor advanced.

COMMENTS AND RESPONSE REPORT (CRR)

28 February 2022, Farmers Community Hall, Marula Boom

Issue / Comment	Response (and / or reference to the Scoping Report)
Which section of the road is targeted?	The current project will only consider section-A of the MR-74 road from the Tar-junction to the Rooidag gate.
What is the difference between normal roads and 'low volume seal' roads?	This is the type of road expected to have a medium amount of traffic flow (not too high and not too low), thus the pavement design will not be of a similar standard as that of a normal/standard bitumen road.
When will construction start?	The project is subdivided into 3-stages (1- Feasibility study stage, 2- Design stage, 3-Construction stage). Stage 1 has been completed, the current stage of the project is stage-2 (Design).
How long is construction expected to last? And will construction be done in sections/portions or will it be done all at once?	Construction of the road will take two (2) years. A temporarily engineered bypass will be provided for motorists to make use of when and where the roads are closed for construction.
What type culverts / pipes that will be used on the new road?	Only Box culverts will be used on the road. The Hydrology study will help determine if more culverts will need to be provided and/or designed.
Will stakeholders be provided with a High-Level Plan and any other relevant information regarding the project such as Feasibility study, Design and Implementation process from start to completion?	Feasibility study is already available and can be provided (also accessible online – RA Website)
Please take note, there is a water problem (Poor drainage) at around Km 11 from the Junction.	To be addressed in design and construction plan (relevant for particularly during the rainy season)
Will the new road design affect any of the nearby farms boundaries In such a case that the road affects the boundaries of a farm or farms, what is the procedure in place?	No, but curves 2&3 have a potential of doing so, however the design is being done with that in mind. There are procedures already in place regarding land compensation. Government Gazetted rates will apply when compensating the affected land owner, the rates will vary depending on the area (size), value, use and land type that is to be compensated. Negotiations will be held with the affected land owner/s to ensure fair compensation and to mitigate conflicts.

How will the boreholes be tested?	Boreholes will be tested for water volume only and not for water quality as the water needed will be used solely for construction not for human consumption.
Aquifer depth decreases in the direction towards Rooidag gate	Noted and to be investigated further
There is an existing Roads authority borehole at the “Marula Boom” close to the Police station.	Noted and borehole to be inspected
Note by stakeholder] – There is an existing Roads authority borehole at the “Marula Boom” close to the Police station.	Noted and borehole to be inspected
What are the specifications regarding the mitigation of oil and chemical spills or disposals and other similar objects?	About 80% of the EMP is directed to the contractor, this will include clauses and conditions to mitigate all environmental and social issues, including oil spillage
Will the WhatsApp group be used for information sharing only or will important decision be made on WhatsApp as well?	WhatsApp can be used for minor decision making, but in the case of Major decisions, all the affected parties are required to meet at the community hall to discuss and make a decision

 4. Comments / Questions
 5. Closing remarks

1. Welcoming remarks

Mr. J.H formally opened the meeting and gave greetings to all attendees.

Attendees from Bicon Namibia, Tortoise EC, and Roads Authority formally introduced themselves to the present stakeholders and members of the Farmers' Association. The farmers' association Chairman formerly introduced himself and gave welcoming remarks.

2. Project Introduction (RA/Bicon)

Ms. C.M gave a brief introduction about the project and clarifications as follow.

- The current project will only consider section-A of the MR-74 road which runs from the junction to the Rooidag gate.
- The project is subdivided into 3-stages (1- Feasibility study stage, 2- Design stage, 3-Construction stage).
- Stage 1 is completed, the current stage of the project is stage-2 (Design).

- [Question from Stakeholder] – What is the difference between normal roads and 'low volume seal' roads

[Ans: C.M] – This is the type of road expected to have a medium amount of traffic flow (not too high and not too low), thus the pavement design will not be of a similar standard as that of a normal/standard bitumen road.

Mr. S.S gave some clarifications regarding the timeline as follow.

- Bicon Namibia will design and supervise the construction of the road throughout its duration.
- The design stage is estimated to take around nine (9) months and is expected to be done by the end of August 2022.
- Procurement is estimated to last around 1 to 2 months (September to October 2022)
- By November 2022, it is estimated that a contractor will have been appointed for construction.
 - [Question form Stakeholder] - Will stakeholders be provided with a High Level Plan and any other relevant information regarding the project such as Feasibility study, Design and Implementation process from start to completion?
 - [Ans: S.S] – Feasibility study is already available to all interested individuals to read, the rest of the requested information cannot be provided as of yet.

[Ans: J.H] – Consultation with the client (RA) will be done and outcome will be reverted as soon as possible.
 - [Question form Stakeholder] – How long is construction expected to last? And will construction be done in sections/portions or will it be done all at once?

[Ans: S.S] – Construction of the road will take two (2) years. A temporarily engineered bypass will be provided for motorists to make use of when and where the road is closed for construction.
 - [Question form Stakeholder] – What type culverts / pipes that will be used on the new road?

[Ans: S.S] – Only Box culverts will be used on the road. The Hydrology study will help determine if more culverts will need to be provided and/or designed.
 - [Note form Stakeholder] – There is a water problem (Poor drainage) at around Km 11 from the Junction.

3. Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA)

Mr. J.H gave a round down of the environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) as follow.

- Tortoise Environmental Consultants (Tortoise EC) will be responsible for carrying out and delivering the EIA

- The EIA document will consist of:

1. Background Information Document (BID) which will outline key issues to consider during the assignment/project. These issues include Bush Clearing, Material and water Sourcing etc. The document has been drafted and is in the process of being finalized.
2. Environmental Management Plan (EMP), this document will address issues and questions such as:
 - a. The Management and rehabilitation of new and existing borrow pits during and after completion of the project.
 - b. Arrangements and Agreements regarding construction workers movements and access to materials such as firewood.
 - c. Proper individuals to be consulted in cases of poaching and animal trapping and steps to be taken in such a case.
 - d. How potential Bushfires will be handled.

- [Question by F.A.C] – Will the new road design affect any of the nearby farms boundaries?

[Ans: S.S] – No, but curves 2&3 have a potential of doing so, however the design is being done with that in mind.

- [Question from stakeholder] – In such a case that the road affects the boundaries of a farm or farms, what is the procedure in place?

[Ans: S.S] – There are procedures already in place regarding land compensation. Government Gazetted rates will apply when compensating the affected land owner, the rates will vary depending on the area (size), value, use and land type that is to be compensated.

Negotiations will be held with the affected land owner to ensure fair compensation and to mitigate conflicts.

- [Note by F.A.C] – The road is not for one individual and will be used by the entire community and the nation at large, in such a case that the road affects a farm's boundary, said farm owner should willingly accommodate the road construction.

4. Comments / Questions

Mr. J.H commented that the first meeting is more of an introductory meeting and an opportunity for all involved parties to familiarize themselves with each other. He also commented the following:

- The geotechnical study is currently in the process of being done, an update will be provided as soon as it is concluded.
 - [Comment by S.S] – Bicon’s Lab Technician is currently scouting in the area for old borrow pits, carrying out a center line investigation, and notifying farmers about potential and current borrow pits in their farm lands.
- The environmental scope & study and the Environmental management plan will be discussed in details during the next meeting.
 - [Question form stakeholder] – How will the boreholes be tested?
[Ans: S.S] – Boreholes will be tested for water volume only and not for water quality as the water needed will be used solely for construction not for human consumption.
 - [Note by stakeholder] – Aquifer depth decreases in the direction towards Rooidag gate.
 - [Note by stakeholder] – There is an existing Roads authority borehole at the “Marula Boom” close to the Police station.
 - [Question form stakeholder] – Will the WhatsApp group be used for information sharing only or will important decision be made on WhatsApp as well?
[Ans: F.A.C] – WhatsApp can be used for minor decision making, but in the case of Major decisions, all the affected parties are required to meet at the community hall to make a final and fair decision.
 - [Question form stakeholder] – What are the specifications regarding the mitigation of oil and chemical spills or disposals and other similar objects?
[Ans: J.H] – 70 - 80% of the EMP is directed to the contractor, this will include clauses and conditions to mitigate such issues and much more.

5. Closing Remarks

Mr. J.H Bid all attendees farewell, he also added the following remarks:

- It is estimated to have around 4 similar meeting in the time between now and the final design stage
