Legal and policy requirement

Environmental Management Act (2007) and its EIA regulations (2012) Public consultation is a crucial part of the EIA process. This provides an opportunity to stakeholders or interested member of the public to find out more about what is being proposed, and to raise any issues or concerns. The Environmental Management Act 2007 and its EIA regulations of 2012 are the key documents governing environmental impact assessment in Namibia. One of the key objectives of the Act is to prevent and mitigate the significant effects of activities on the environment by: “Ensuring that there are opportunities for timeous participation of interested and affected parties throughout the assessment process; and ensuring that the findings of an assessment are taken into account before any decision is made in respect of activities.” The key principle of the Environmental Management Act 2007 advocates for public participation. The principles states that “the participation of all interested and affected parties must be promoted and decisions must take into account, the interest, needs and values of interested and affected parties”. Section 21 of the EIA Regulations outlines procedure on public participation process as follows:

The person conducting a public consultation process must give notice to all potential interested and affected parties of the application which is subjected to public consultation by:

(a) Fixing a notice board at a place conspicuous to the public at the boundary or on the fence of the site where the activity to which the application relates or is to be undertaken;

(b) Giving written notice to:

- i. The owners and occupiers of land adjacent to the site where the activity is or is to be undertaken or to any alternative site;
- ii. The local authority council, regional council and traditional authority, as the case may be, in which the site or alternative site is situated owever this is private farm land in Hochfield at farm Omuramba.

iii. Any other organ of state having jurisdiction in respect of any aspect of the activity; and c) Advertising the application once a week for two consecutive weeks in at least two newspapers circulated widely in Namibia.

A notice, notice board or advertisement referred to in sub regulation (2) must give details of the application which is subjected to public consultation and state:

- i. That the application is to be submitted to the Environmental Commissioner in terms of these regulations;
- ii. The nature and location of the activity to which the application relates;
- iii. Where further information on the application or activity can be obtained: and c) The manner in which and the person to whom representations in respect of the application may be made.

When complying with this regulation, the person conducting the public consultation process must ensure that information containing all relevant facts in respect of the application is made available to potential interested and affected parties.

And consultation by potential interested and affected parties is facilitated in such a manner that all potential interested and affected parties are provided with a reasonable opportunity to comment on the application.

For the purpose of the Act and these regulations a notice is given to a person or a person is informed of a decision, if a document to that effect is:

- (a) Delivered personally to that person;
- (b) Sent by registered post to the persons last known address;
- (c) Left with an adult individual apparently residing at or occupying or employed at the person's last known address; or
- (d) In the case of a business-
 - (i) Delivered to the public officer of the business;

- (ii) Left with an adult individual apparently residing at or occupying or employed at its registered address;
- (iii) Sent by registered post addressed to the business or its public officer at their last known addresses; or
- (iv) Transmitted by means of a facsimile transmission to the person concerned at the registered office of the business.”

Consultation approach

The following activities were undertaken to facilitate stakeholder and community participation during this EIA process:

- ♣ The I&AP list was compiled by using internet facilities. The I&AP telephone numbers were searched in the telephone directory and with the assistance of Telecom’s Directory Information service.
- ♣ A Background Information Document (BID) was compiled, which was distributed via Internet and physical to the land owners at farm Omuramba (Appendix 5).
- ♣ The BID invitation was followed up with a Stakeholder Consultation meeting
- ♣ Advertisements to invite interested and affected parties to the public meetings were placed in the NewEra and The Confidante newspapers for consecutive two weeks (Appendix 1).
- ♣ The public meetings for interested and affected parties was held at farm Portion 11 of Farm Omuramba, N0. 341 in the Okahandja District Otjozondjupa Region at (see images of the public meeting and stakeholder’s engagement below) .

The interested and affected parties (I & AP’s)

The I&APs for this project were identified using information from the existing Environmental Expert stakeholder database. Organizations were selected whom the consultant considered to be interested in or affected by this particular project. An I&APS can be defined as '(a) any person, group of persons or organization interested in or affected by an activity; and (b) any organ of state that may have jurisdiction over any aspect of the activity. Outcome of the public consultation meeting The main issue that is drawn from the public participation which took place on the 21st November 2022 for the public interested in the project Solar PV stand alone with integrated storage solution. Since this is a big benefit to the Local people around Hochfield , the power generated will also increase the demand shortages needed to cover the shortfall in Namibia's energy demand. The owner of Farm Omuramba has given consent by leasing farm Portion 11 of Farm Omuramba, N0. 341 to EUVI ENERGY TECHNOLOGIES cc for solar power generation.

Key issues identified during the public consultation process

During the public participation process the following keys issues were identified:

- I. Consideration to be made for employment of general workers/labourers from the surrounding communities.
- II. Application for a permit to cross the road to connect to the nearest grind to submitted to the Roads Authority Namibia.
- III. How will the community members from other farms bordering farm Portion 11 of Farm Omuramba, N0. 341 the benefits from the project?
- IV. How will the employment duration be for the contract/labourers/workers and compensation rates be?

The identified keys issues during the public participation process together with the issues identified in section above were assess for potential impacts in section 7.

Some of the issues or concern raised were submitted to EUVI ENERGY TECHNOLOGIES cc and Design team for consideration.

See Appendix 2 of the minutes of the public consultations meetings.

Public consultation outcome

In this section, issues on public participation process such as steps or methods that were followed, process, the outcome of the public participation process, and key issues identified were presented.
