NOTIFICATION AND CALL FOR PUBLIC PARTICIPATION: ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT (EIA) STUDIES FOR PROPOSED NEW FACILITIES AND DEVELOPMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT PLANS (EMPs) FOR EXISTING FACILITIES FOR 12 LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN NAMIBIA

Excel Dynamic Solutions (Pty) Ltd (EDS) recognized the knowledge gap on Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) and Management in most, if not all Environmental Health Officers (EHOs) in Local Authorities (Municipalities, Town & Villages Councils) of Namibia. Subsequently, EDS organized a Free, Hands-on 2-day EIA Training for the Officers, which was held from the 25 to 26 November 2021 in Windhoek. The Training was 2021 in Windhoek. The Training was aimed at giving exposure to the Municipal, Town & Village Councils' EHOs on the environmental impact assessment process with specific reference to townships development, waste management, urban geology, integrated water resource management and sustainability.

Upon completion of the Training, the EHOs and representatives of the Local Authorities shared with EDS some of their existing facilities or planned projects that are listed activities in the Environmental Management Act (EMA) No. 7 of 2007 and its 2012 EIA Regulations requiring Environmentals Regulations requiring Environmental Clearance Certificates (ECCs). Clearance Certificates (ECCs). EDS then offered to assist every represented Local Authority with one project of their choice each (new or existing) to obtain an ECC at no cost to the Local Authorities. The Public is therefore hereby notified that different applications for ECCs will be submitted to the Environmental Commissioner as per the EMA No. 7 of 2007 and its 2012 EIA Regulations.

The Projects (existing and new) for Certificates will be applied for and their Proponents (Local Authorities that responded to accept the offer)

We have to do a magical thing," said Karim Benzema after Real Madrid performed another Houdini act in the Champions League to escape only 4-3 down from Tuesday's thrilling semifinal, first leg against Manchester City

Benzema set up what should be a special night at the Santiago Bernabeu on May 4 by scoring twice to take his tally for the season to 41 goals in as many games.

Without the Frenchman, Madrid's quest for a 14th European crown would have long since Benzema scored hat-tricks against both Paris Saint-Germain and Chelsea in the past two rounds as Real walked a tightrope to reach the last four for the 30th time.

By contrast, this was just City's aird trip to the semifinals, but the English champions justified their status as tournament favourites on the night the Etihad Stadium may finally have warmed to the Champions League.

The competition's anthem was again lustily booed before kick-off by City fans who have not forgotten the financial fair play charges laid against their club by Uefa.

Had City not successfully appealed to the Court of Arbitration for Sport, they would have been banned from the Champions League for the past

Instead, they are 90 minutes away from reaching the final for a second consecutive season.

Benzema keeps Real

It was the first time the City fans had something to cheer in a semifinal.

When the sides met at this stage in 2016, Madrid edged a cagey tie 1-0 on aggregate.

Last season, City swept aside Paris Saint-Germain but in front of empty stadiums due to coronavirus restrictions.

This time it took just 10 minutes for Madrid to be clinging on to stay in the tie.

Kevin De Bruyne headed in after 90 seconds before Gabriel Jesus doubled the home side's lead.

Riyad Mahrez and Phil Foden should have put Real out of sight, but PSG and Chelsea had similar regrets only to be stung by the survival instincts of Carlo Ancelotti's men

"When you lose it isn't good," said Ancelotti, dismissing suggestions he should be pleased to have escaped still alive in the tie.

'It is easy to read this game, we were good on the ball and bad without it."

THE HOLY GRAIL

Once again it was left to Benzema to dig Los Blancos out of the mire by halving the deficit before halftime.

A wild second half raged from end to end as Foden and Bernardo Silva extended City's advantage, only to be pegged back by Vinicius Junior's stunning solo run and finish before Benzema had the final word from the penalty spot. "No one can say they didn't enjoy it," said Guardiola. "It was a good advertisement for football.

Eleven years have passed since Guardiola last lifted the European Cup as Barcelona coach.

That same year City began their Champions League journey, backed by the wealth of Abu Dhabi that has made them the dominant force in English football over the past decade.

Now in Guardiola's sixth season, conquering Europe remains their holy grail.

There has been much frustration at the failures along the way, particularly when Guardiola has at times tried to be too clever

But the sight of Madrid being put to the sword with the eyes of the world on the Etihad was why City have invested so much to bring the Spaniard to east Manchester and keep him around longer than he has stayed at any other club.

"There is not one complaint about the result, the performance," added Guardiola. "I'm so proud and incredibly happy with the way we performed."

The ultimate test of whether City are ready to win the Champions League awaits next week when the cauldron of the Bernabeu will expect another

1. Public Consultation

Communication with Stakeholders (Interested and Affected Parties)

Regulation 21 of the EIA Regulations details the steps to be taken during a public consultation process and these have been used in guiding this process. Communication with I&APs with regards to the project was facilitated through the following means and in this order:

Compilation of the Background Information Document (BID)

A non-technical summary of the Project activities (background information document (BID)) containing brief information about the project activities was compiled and hand delivered to the competent authorities (for ECC application and Project registration) and circulated to all pre-identified and all new registered I&APs (upon request).

Newspaper Advertising (Public Notification)

Project Environmental Assessment notices were published in The Namibian and New Era Newspapers dated 19 & 26 April 2022. The adverts briefly provided information on the project activities, location, inviting the public to the consultation meeting, to register as I&APs and submit their comments/concerns.

Consultation Meetings

A consultation meeting was scheduled for the 12th of July 2022 in Oranjemund's Zacharias Lewala Community Hall at 09h30. Despite the notices placed in the Town by the responsible department of the Town Council, the public did not come to the meeting – Figure 1. However, one health worker from the Oranjemund Clinic who was at the Community Hall provided some comments provided under Table 1.

The Possible reasons of a No-Show Public Consultation Meeting

The Town Council representatives also informed the Environmental Consultants that the residents of the Town are known to be selective to the type of meetings they attend. According to the Town Council personnel, from experience with public meetings in the Town, the public only attend meetings that directly affect them such as services tariff increments. There was a meeting where the Town Council invited the public to attend. The meeting was on plot allocation and budgeting. The public only stayed to listen to the plot allocation and left as soon as the budget agenda point was being discussed, as they do not apparently see the importance of this nor does it directly affect them.

Public Notices (Posters) and Public Comments Period

A3 size printed posters were placed in Oranjemund for a period of 2 weeks before the consultation meeting date. The notices were placed at the Town Council offices (Head Office and Technical Offices) notice boards. Some of the notices were also placed at the Spar Groceries Store in the Town for public notification. Photos of the public notices as pasted in the Town are shown in Figure 2.

The comments and registration request period ran from 12 August to 02 September 2022 with an extension after the consultation meeting to 09 September 2022.

Feedback from Interested and Affected Parties

Issues were raised by I&APs from BID response as part of the consultation process. These issues have been recorded and incorporated in the Scoping Report and EMP. The summary these key issues are presented in Table 1 below.

Table 1: Summary of main comments received during the EIA process

Aspects	Summary of the Concern / Issue or comment
The burying of people out of Oranjemund (comments	-There are few burials taking place in Oranjemund
by one of the local Health workers at the Clinic)	because most people in the Town are only there for work, that when they die, their families arrange for burials in

Aspects	Summary of the Concern / Issue or comment
	the places of origins outside Oranjemund (elsewhere in Namibia), and possibly in other countries for foreigners.
Vandalism and theft (by the Town Council	The vandalism of graves by some of the residents and Representative/cemetery Foreman)	stealing of grave markings such as metals tags.
