NO MORE: Gender based Violence and learner pregnancies in Namibia

Terms of Reference –
Consultancy to develop Information, Education and Communication (IEC) Material on Gender based Violence (GBV) and Learner Pregnancy (LP)

1. Background
Friedrich Ebert Stiftung (FES) and Regain Trust with funding from the European Union are implementing a project aimed at strengthening National Efforts to prevent, mitigate and address GBV and LP in Namibia by working Nationally and across 3 Regions, namely Khomas, Erongo and Oshana. The overall goal of this project is to establish new, multi-faceted approaches to curb GBV and LP through holistic preventative measures and enhanced protection of survivors. The project seeks to achieve two key specific objectives which are: 1) Strengthen knowledge and capacity of key stakeholders (such as GBV CSOs, Political Decision Makers) to increase the quantity and quality of prevention and protection activities to address GBV and LP and 2) Increase access to quality psychosocial support services for survivors of GBV and LP. The project seeks to work collaboratively with key and existing stakeholders working in areas to address GBV and LP. The project places GBV/LP survivors at the centre of its approaches and attempts to reflect the experiences and lessons learned from survivors. The project envisions that with increased and enhanced prevention and protection services, Namibia can move towards a reduction in the prevalence of GBV and LP.

2. Scope of Work
To achieve its objectives, the project implementers seek the services of a suitably qualified consultant to assist in the development of GBV and LP IEC material for survivors of Gender Based Violence and Learner Pregnancy. The core purpose of the IEC material would be to enhance the awareness and knowledge levels of GBV survivors in order to more effectively navigate GBV and LP services. Additionally, the IEC material should strengthen their knowledge of legal frameworks to ensure that survivors and the general public are fully aware of their rights and procedures to be expected when accessing GBV and LP services. The overall goal of the IEC material should be to strengthen the ability for survivors to demand and advocate for quality GBV and LP services. The material should, in a simplistic and effective manner, illustrate the types of services that survivors and members of the public can expect from GBV and LP service providers as well as outline the various laws and policies that guide such services. The materials should by no means be a duplication of existing materials already developed by other partners.

3. Key Deliverables
The following key activities are envisioned for the consultancy:

- Review key National documents (such as laws & policies) related to GBV & LP
- Summarise National documents into easy to read and comprehend IEC materials
- Translation into 6 indigenous languages (languages most commonly spoken in the Erongo, Oshana and Khomas regions)
- Printing of 3000 copies of the IEC material once approved

4. Requirements

- Showcase proof of work experience in the development of IEC materials related to GBV, LP
- Showcase an understanding of Gender, GBV, LP, laws and policies and other issues related to GBV and LP.

5. Application process
Interested parties should submit the following documents:

- Detailed proposal including workplan
- Budget
- CV's
- Letter of recommendation

Applications or queries should be forwarded to Mr. James Itana at jitana@regain-trust.org

Hospital visits limited

Meanwhile, the health ministry last week also announced it would restrict inpatient hospital visits to about 15 minutes from one hour to limit the risk or spreading of Covid-19. The directive also stated that it would allow one visitor per patient in all wards. "All family members are encouraged to communicate with loved ones via phone when possible," read the directive. In addition, Nangombe told New Era that Covid-19 outbreak needs serious response from everyone and it is important they put measure in place to particularly reduce the number of people congregating in one space. "You have people already in there who are ill so we are saying we don't know whether a member of the public has been exposed to the Covid-19 virus, hence it's important when we come to our loved ones in hospitals that we do not stay too long in order to limit the possibility of others contracting the virus," explained Nangombe.

Lotie Kasingo

The Swapo MP received 64 votes, while Dienda got 32 votes.

Katjaviwi and Kasingo were both elected into their positions shortly after the official swearing-in ceremony of all 96 MPs, who were elected based on the National Assembly, our beloved country, he said. "Furthermore, our Parliament and society, in general, are guided by the rule of law and respect for each other, while upholding the ethos and values of our national constitution."

The councillor of Onipa constituency Jerry Ngwena handed over the donated items and promised to provide the remainder of the family with food for the year, considering that the mahangu field was not cultivated.

Teenager Esther Hainbodi (12), who was heading the household, had to abandon her school in order to take care of her younger siblings.

She decided not to go back to her paternal grandmother's house where she was washing, after she discovered that her mother had abandoned of two and nine. Simmon claimed she was out in search of work and not necessarily running away from home.

During the handover, fellow villagers castigated Simmon, accusing her of being lazy and for not being there for her family.

"We assisted after taking note of the dire situation you find yourselves in, that is why we had to commit, but as our family members have said, try to be a responsible parent that can guide these children to prosperity than letting them suffer.

We understand your deplorable state, but that doesn't mean inability. We will assist with the basics till December, as by then we believe you will be able to put something on the table," stressed Ngwena.
