A Rough One Million for Cancer

The annual "Rough n Tough Rally" hosted by the Beard-family over the weekend raised more than N$1 million to the benefit of the Cancer Association of Namibia (WO30).

The three-day rally challenge is undertaken annually through Damara-land, and this year kicked off on Thursday, 18 May 2023 and travelled offbeat tracks, mountain trails and riverbeds through Oma-jete Village and up to-wards Khorixas where the rally ended at the Madisa Camp on Saturday evening. Two hundred and eighty participants, seventy-eight rally cars and thirty-five back-up vehicles participated (included a team from the Cancer Association and additional media crew) and completed the 1 000 kilometres trek over a period of three days. "A community of classic and off-road car lovers, adventurers and high-spirited enthusiasts who lived their passion this weekend and paid it forward to help others – this is the beautiful story of Rough n Tough," said Mr Rolf Hansen, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of CAN. The rally was initiated by Mr Philipie Beard some six years ago to answer his quest on creating an adventure experience for car lovers, while giving something back to the community. What started out with a list of possible participants, soon turned into one of the adventure highlights of Namibia off-road enthusiasts. Cars must be older than 30 years and participants must have a serious sense for adventure, while all are challenged to raise funds through their networks and family towards the Cancer Association of Namibia. Previous donations were used in support of the National Cancer Outreach Programme and Patient Financial Assistance Programme of the organisations, while all funds raised through the 2023 event will be used to assist the establishment of the new palliative care unit currently under construction by CAN. Pupkewitz Motors through their GWM/Haval division on Tuesday handed over a P-Series pick-up bakkie to the Cancer Association of Namibia (WO30) that served as support vehicle during the organisation's participation in the annual "Rough n tough Rally for CANcer". "We are a proud partner of CAN and the work they do and applaud the organisers of the rally and all sponsors who make this event a reality," said Ms Olivia Gents, Marketing & Customer Experience Manager at Pupkewitz Motors Division. Pupkewitz Motors is an official vehicle partner of CAN and provides vehicles to the organisation on ad-hoc basis for various projects annually. "Team CAN participated with our old VolksWagen Volksiebus, donated by the late Mr and Mrs List through Namibia Breweries, which went well together with our colourful sponsored P-Series back-up vehicle," said Mr

A rough one million for cancer Pupkewitz sponsored vehicle

Rolf Hansen, Chief Executive of CAN. Funds raised during the 2023 event is earmarked for the development of the new palliative care programme by CAN to provide of end-of-life support and care for cancer patients in Namibia.

Raising awareness for thyroid health and importance of early detection

World Thyroid Day is a significant day dedicated to raising awareness about thyroid diseases and the burden they place on individuals and healthcare systems worldwide.

This day is celebrated on May 25 every year, and it serves as a reminder to the public and medical professionals about the importance of understanding and treating thyroid illnesses.

What is the thyroid?

The thyroid is a small gland located at the base of the neck. It is essential for regulating metabolism, growth, and development, as well as our tissue function, sexual function, reproduction, sleep, and even our mood.

It affects, directly or indirectly, almost every function in our bodies: our temperature, our digestive system, and our mental development.

However, thyroid diseases can cause the gland to produce too much or too little of these hormones, leading to a range of health problems.

One of the leading experts in thyroid health management is Dr Justus Apffelstaedt, a specialist surgeon with a keen interest in breast, thyroid, and parathyroid health management.

According to Dr Apffelstaedt, many South Africans are still unaware of what the thyroid is, let alone the impact of thyroid cancer. This lack of awareness makes it challenging for individuals to detect and diagnose thyroid diseases early, which can significantly affect their chances of recovery.

"The importance of early detection and diagnosis cannot be overstated. Thyroid cancer is one of the fastest-growing cancers globally, and it affects people of all ages and genders. Early detection and diagnosis can increase the chances of successful treatment and recovery."

World Thyroid Day is an opportunity to educate the public about thyroid diseases and the importance of regular check-ups and early detection. It is also a day to recognise healthcare professionals who are committed to the international study and treatment of thyroid diseases.

Dr Apffelstaedt further explains that common thyroid disorders such as hypothyroidism and hyperthyroidism seldom lead to cancer and are typically manageable with proper care. However, he cautions that thyroid cancer, while rare, is still classified among the more prevalent types of cancer.

The good news is that early detection of thyroid cancer results in a high survival rate, particularly when the patient is diagnosed early.

What are the symptoms to be on the lookout for of thyroid cancer?

Symptoms vary, however some of the symptoms can be fairly generic and include the:

- The appearance of a lump in the neck.
- Pain in the neck and throat.
- Swollen lymph nodes.
- A persistent cough not linked to a cold.
- Difficulty in breathing.
- Pain and difficulty swallowing.
- The appearance of a lump or growth in the neck.
- Constant voice changes and hoarseness.

It's crucial to remember that while the signs and symptoms previously mentioned may not always be a direct result of thyroid cancer, seeking medical advice is highly recommended advised Dr Apffelstaedt

If your doctor determines that the symptoms require further investigation, you will likely be referred to a specialist for a more accurate diagnosis and an assessment of the appropriate treatment plan.

"Remember, early detection of thyroid cancer is key to ensuring a positive prognosis, so never hesitate to speak with your doctor about any abnormal symptoms you may experience."

Four Namibian teams create four books in 12 hours

In late October 2022, four creative volunteer teams from Namibia worked in just 12 hours to create beautiful Namibian children's books that can be freely translated, printed and distributed by anyone.

The first Booksprint Namibia event was sponsored by the Embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany in Windhoek and the Goethe-Institut Windhoek. The "Book-Sprint Namibia Books" are based on the "Book Dash" project that was developed in South Africa, because they believe every child should own a hundred books by the age of five, before they enter school. In teams of three, each consisting of a writer, illustrator and graphic designer and children's and young adult author Nasrin Siege as editor for 4 all teams, four books were created in Windhoek in 12 hours of joint work, which may be published free of charge.

All books are richly illustrated and will be printed with a print run of 1000 copies to be distributed free of charge in libraries, kindergartens, primary schools and at the Goethe-Institut.

Makhadzi teases 'break-up' album

It's true what they say, when artists go through difficulties, they end up creatively producing some of their best work.

Multi-award-winning musician Makhadzi, who broke up with her bae and fellow musician, Master KG, about eight months ago, seems to have channelled that heartache into making a new album – which is all about her ex.

She took to her social media to share the news with fans while giving them a taste of what's to come.

The lyrics of the new song translates in English to: "Where ever you go, be happy (x2). They should nurse you well (x2), your new-found love should love you abundantly (x2), and treat you well (x2).

"We're now new to the world (x2), because you're new to someone, I'm also new to someone else."

Accompanied with a video clip of her sobbing, she wrote in the caption: "Dear ex please move on and be happy, I am not crying because I stl love you, I am crying because is not easy to start a new chapter of life.

"I wish you all the best! We must make sure our new partners treat us well so we can never think of turning back.

"Are you ready for my album!

While her fans are more than ready for her to drop the album, they couldn't help but get emotional over the song and video of Makhadzi crying.

"Ncooooh that's a sad song ,", commented @nkhensi_.

"Walking away from a toxic relationship is always a win for every human being," wrote @alicemathole.

"Sending love queen ,", said @lilybae3041.

Good afternoon Colin,

You have recently advertised the three above applications – SUBDIVISION OF ERF 7809 KUISEBMOND + SUBDIVISION OF REMAINDER PORTION B WALVIS BAY TOWN AND TOWNLANDS + SUBDIVISION OF ERF 5766 KUISEBMOND – for public consultation.

I know that the registration for Interested and Affected Parties has closed, however I would ask if it is possible for me to be registered as an I&AP. I have clients who are interested in these applications and I would like to be kept informed/up to date with your EIA/ECC process.

Whether or not I am able to register as an I&AP, I would like a copy of your BID document and any other relevant available public documents for these applications.

I hope and trust that this is in order and to your satisfaction and I look forward to your reply at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Bruce
