Dear Sir/Madam

In terms of the Environmental Management Act (No. 7 of 2007) (EMA) and the Environmental Impact Assessment Regulations (Government Notice No. 30 of 2012), notice is hereby given to all potential interested and/or affected parties (IAPs) that an application will be made to the Environmental Commissioner for an environmental clearance certificate (ECC) for the following project:

• NAMIBIANS HAS ONE MATCH LEFT

U18s hit back with a win

Zack von Wielligh was named player of the match by the Namibian coaching team following the 27-10 win at the Jeppe High School field

ANDREW POOLMAN WINDHOEK

The Namibia Under-18s overcame a slow start during the first half to win match two against Border Country Districts at the SA Rugby U18 Academy Week in Johannesburg yesterday. Zack von Wielligh was named player of the match by the Namibian coaching team following the 27-10 win at the Jeppe High School field. The Windhoek Gymnasium open-side flank was a live wire on defence and also carried well by spinning out of tackles or making metres with leg drives.

After Monday's opener, in which the Valke stung them with a 28-27 comeback win, the Namibians only led 10-0 at half-time against the Eastern Cape team.

School) and a try by lock Walter Otto (Windhoek Affies) were their only points at that stage. Despite a strong scrum, their ruck possession was very slow and simply played into the hands of the Border defence.

The introduction of JD Rossouw (WBPS) as scrum half after half-time brought an immediate improvement to the pace and decision-making of the Namibian attack.

Rossouw scored one try himself, while counter-attacking full-back Antua Klein (WBPS) and left wing Sammy Sobramoney (WHS) also added five-pointers, along with one more conversion by Koopman. The Namibians have one match left, on Thursday.

SUCCESSFUL END TO ARCHERY CHAMPIONSHIPS

SPORTS REPORTER WINDHOEK

Ten Namibian archers participated in the Africa Regional Field Archery Championships hosted in Namibia over the past weekend, from 30 June till 2 July.

In very cold and windy weather, the Namibian team competed against neighbouring South Africa and Zambia.

In the adult men's freestyle unlimited class, Jannie Meuwesen from Windhoek took first place. In the men's bow hunter unlimited class, Rene Rossler from Lüderitz took second place. In the women's hunter unlimited class category, Liezl Schoeman from Windhoek took third place, whereas Windhoek's Cobus Barnard bagged third place in the young adult male freestyle unlimited category.

In a press statement, the Archery Association of Namibia expressed how proud they are of the archers who participated. "We would also like to thank our sponsors: Checkers, Prime Press, Varta and Pupkewitz Mega Build. With you it was possible to host a very successful Africa Championships in Namibia and we appreciate your assistance," read the statement.

Namibia off to Fistball World Championships

OLAF MULLER WINDHOEK

Namibian fistball player Dieter Kebbel recently spoke to Namibia Media Holdings about the upcoming Fistball World Championship in Mannheim, Germany, which starts on 22 July. The world's top teams will compete with one goal in mind - to dethrone the record-breaking world champion, Germany.

Namibia will also be sending a team, not for the first time. The Namibian Fistball Association (FAN) has participated 15 times in the championship so far.

NMH: What do you expect from the tournament and your performance?

Kebbel: I expect high-class fistball, where you can gain a lot of experience. We can't expect too much from the group games and just play our hearts out to prepare for the placement games after that. The opening match gives us the chance to experience what it means to play at the top of a fistball world championship, and we can take this feeling with us into the match against Italy. We would like to really annoy this opponent. The match against Switzerland gives us another opportunity to prepare for the most important part of the World Cup, the one after the group stage.

NMH: The opening game against Germany is a tough one. You have hosted some of the players as guests in recent weeks - what do you think you can do to upset the clear favourites?

Kebbel: The tips from our guests were very valuable. As a defender, the talks with Ida Hollmann helped me perform more confidently and tackle the simple things better on the field. In the match against Johannes Junglaussen, it was shown to me what is waiting for us with Germany. I am very happy to play against the world champions; it is a chance to compare ourselves with the best. I hope we will do the best we can to play a good opening game against the Germans.

NMH: Afterwards, Italy and Switzerland.

Kebbel: Against Italy, we have the most hope for a win. In the group stage, the game against Italy is the most important because we can build momentum from a possible win, which will hopefully carry us to the end. Against Switzerland, there is a chance for us to play good fistball at the highest level again without any pressure. I almost think that the game against Switzerland will be the most fun - whether we win or lose. It's another chance for us to prove ourselves.

NEWS IN SHORT

Teen suffocates in mud

A 16-year-old boy died last Friday after he allegedly suffocated while removing mud out of a water hole at Itatu village in the Omusati Region's Tsandi constituency.

"It is alleged that the deceased and four other housemates were removing mud out of a water hole/well. In the process, the deceased and his uncle - who were inside the water hole - became unconscious as they began to suffocate," the police said.

The others who were outside the well went to seek assistance from the neighbours, but they only managed to remove the older man from the water hole.

He was taken to Okatseidhi clinic before being transported to Tsandi hospital in a critical condition, police said.

Divers from the Oshana Region were summoned to remove the deceased's body. The teen's remains were transported to the Okahao police mortuary for a post-mortem. Investigations into the matter continue.

Cattle herder rapes four-year-old

A four-year-old girl has become the latest rape victim in the Oshikoto Region after she was alleged repeatedly raped by a cattle herder in the Omuthiya area.

The rapes reportedly happened between April and July at unknown times.

Oshikoto regional commander, Commissioner Teopolina Kalompo-Nashikaku, said the suspect allegedly raped the victim while she was left in his care.

"The suspect lives in the same house as the victim and [the rapes occurred] while her grandmother went to the cuca shop," Kalompo-Nashikaku, said.

She said the suspect, a 17-year-old Angolan male, has been arrested and is expected to appear before the Ondangwa Magistrate's Court this week. Kalompo-Nashikaku further cautioned parents and guardians not to leave their children with cattle herders.

FIRES DESTROY 13 SHACKS IN SWAKOPMUND

NIKANOR NANGOLO
WALVIS BAY

A total of 13 shacks were gutted in two separate fires in Swakopmund yesterday. No fatalities or injuries were reported, but about 16 victims - including four children - were affected by the first fire.

According to Inspector Ileni Shapumba, police commander for community affairs in the Erongo Region, the first incident happened around 07:55 in Mondesa's Tulinawa near the intersection of Monica Geingos and Stefanus Shipanga streets.

"The fire started on one of the erven, where it then spread to two other properties. About 12 shacks burned to ashes."

The second fire erupted in Andimba Toivo Ya Toivo Street in the DRC informal settlement, where one shack was razed.

Shapumba said the owner, who lives with his girlfriend and three children, was cooking outside and quickly went to the neighbour's house. Upon his return, he allegedly noticed smoke coming from the direction of his home.

The Namibian Police and the Swakopmund Fire Brigade attended to both incidents. Police investigations continue.

Mbok case: Only three state witnesses found

Thirteen years after a fraud case against Antonie 'Tony' Mbok and Daniel Nghiwilepo kicked off, it continues to drag on with no end in sight.

IRENE-MARI VAN DER WALT
WINDHOEK

Efforts to locate 16 state witnesses to testify in a fraud case have largely yielded no results.

Only three of the 16 witnesses could be found, state prosecutor Taodago Gaweseb told Judge Nate Ndaudendo on Monday.

The fraud case against Antonie "Tony" Mbok and Daniel Nghiwilepo has been dragging on for more than a decade.

Mbok and his co-accused - including Mbok's company - stand accused of 10 charges of fraud relating to cheques with a combined value of around N$3.9 million which the accused allegedly intercepted.

The State claimed the cheques paid into Mbok's company's account were intended for the ministry of finance.

Another defendant, Veronica Thomas, already pleaded guilty to five charges of fraud in 2010 - at the start of the trial - and was effectively sentenced to eight years in prison.

On Monday, Gaweseb called two witnesses who testified that they submitted two cheques to the ministry. He explained after these testimonies that only one more witness could be located, and that this witness would only be able to testify on Tuesday [yesterday].

Mbok and Nghiwilepo's legal representatives, Boris Isaacks and Silas Kishi-Shakumu, did not object to the application for adjournment. However, they questioned the importance of the remaining 13 witnesses.

Kishi-Shakumu said he wanted to discuss the importance of the remaining witnesses with Gaweseb to determine the value of their contributions.

Ocean Conversation Namibia het onlangs die jaarlikse robbe-oes veroordeel. FOTO VERSKAF

Kwota van 86 000 vir robbe-oes

Nikanor Nangolo

“Ons sien vreeslik op teen hierdie tyd van die jaar. Oor die afgelope jare het ons sleepmerke volbloed by Kaap Kruis gesien. Gewonde robbe, bang diere.

“Ons het dae deurgebring om hulle te probeer red, en hulle kon dalk die volgende dag doodgeslaan of geskiet word. As hulle nie met rommel doodgemaak word nie, word hulle met knuppels en gewere doodgemaak,” het die bewaringsorganisasie Ocean Conversation Namibia (OCN) in ’n nuusbrief geskryf.

Dit volg op die onlangse aankondiging deur die ministerie van visserye en mariene hulpbronne oor ’n kwota om 80 000 Kaapse pelsrobbe-welpies en 6 000 bulle vanjaar te oes.

Volgens die ministerie staan die bevolking tans op 1,6 miljoen en bestaan uit 26 kolonies. Hulle vreet na raming 2 miljoen ton vis per jaar.

“As jy robbevolkings laat groei, sal hulle inderdaad kommersiële hoeveelhede vis verbruik. Die bevolking moet op ’n vlak gehou word wat die ekosisteen kan ondersteun,” het Romeo Muyunda, die woordvoerder van die ministerie van die omgewing, bosbou en toerisme, gesê.

Die OCN, ’n private inisiatief wat hom vir die redding van robbe beywer deur dié te bevry wat in seerommel soos nette verstrengeel word, het gesê die jaarlikse robbe-oes is hoogs omstrede, hoofsaaklik as gevolg van die manier hoe jong robbe op die sagte deel van die agterkop doodgeslaan word.

“Om robbe-welpies met ’n knuppel dood te slaan, is argaïes en moet verbied word; geen verdere bespreking nie. Robbe kry verkeerdlik die skuld vir visvoorrae wat uitgeput word. Terwyl robbe tot 10% van hul liggaamsgewig per dag kan vreet, eet hulle hoofsaaklik vis wat nie kommersiële verbruik word nie. Daar is een rede waarom visvoorrae afneem, naamlik oorbevissing. Ons moet viskwotas en wanbestuur verminder om volhoubare visvangpraktieke te bereik.”

Die OCN het opgemerk dat hulle verstaan dat lande soos Namibië om hulpbronne moet kapitaliseer.

“Dit is egter oneties om 6 000 gesonde prima alfa-robbe vir hul geslagsdele dood te maak. Daar bestaan geen ekonomiese vraag na dooie robbe-welpies nie.

“Hulle het baie min vleis, wat ongewild lyk vir verbruiksdoeleindes, en baie min vet vir die produksie van omega-robolie.

“Oor die afgelope jare is baie min robbe-welpies geoes en ons verwag dieselfde vir 2023. Vir ons bulle is daar geen goeie nuus nie. Die vraag na diere se geslagsorgane groei, en daar is versoeke van die robbedryf om die kwota te verhoog. Gelukkig bring hulle die grootste deel van hul jaar in die see of by ontoganklike rokolonies deur, ver weg van mense en wapens.

“In die skadu van hierdie verskriklike kwota van 86 000 robbe, lyk ons klein getal van 181 robbe vir die maand wat van nete bevry is, onbelangrik. Junie was ons suksesvolste maand sedert ons begin het om robbe te red. Dit maak ons hartseer om te dink dat sommige van hulle dalk nie die oeseisoen gaan oorleef nie.”

Arbeidsministerie betaal steeds afgestorwe werkers

Daar is glo nie meganismes in plek om te verifieer of die ministerie steeds salarisse betaal aan personele wat intussen dood is nie.

Ogone Tlhage

’n Oudit deur die kantoor van die ouditeur-generaal het bevind die ministerie van arbeid, nywerheidsbetrekkinge en werkskepping het nie meganismes in plek om te verifieer of hy steeds salarisse betaal aan personele wat intussen dood is nie.

Dié bevindinge word uiteengesit in die ministerie se ouditverslag vir die 2022-boekjaar.

“Die oudit het bevind afgestorwe werknemers wat vergoeding vir beroepsbeserings ontvang het, steeds aktief is op die ministerie se betaalstaatmodule en dat hulle ’n maandelikse voordeel betaal is – selfs ná die sterfdatum,” lui die ouditverslag.

Ouditteur-generaal Junias Kandjeko het opgemerk die ministerie kan nie vasstel wie – onder personele aan wie hy vergoeding betaal – is dood nie.

“Die rekeningbeampte het aangedui alhoewel die begunstigdes op die ministerie betaalstaat is, het die ministerie nie toegang tot inligting om te bepaal of hulle nog lewe of nie,” lui die verslag.

SSC-VERIFIKASIE

Luidens die ouditverslag maak die ministerie staat op die rekords van die Maatskaplike Voorsorgkommissie (SSC) om te verifieer watter van sy werknemers dood is.

“Die ministerie is tans besig met die samestelling van ’n databasis van alle vergoedingstoekennings wat aktief is op die betaalstaatsstelsel deur die insameling van alle inligting wat die SSC vrygestel het. Dit sodat die ministerie jaarliks betaalstaatverifikasie kan uitvoer om soortgelyke situasies in die toekoms te vermy,” luidens die verslag.

Ander ouditkwessies wat uitgelig is, sluit in hoe die ministerie sy inkomste gemotiveer het.

“Die inkomste vir die 2021-’22-boekjaar wat deur die rekenpligtige beampte vermeld word, verskil van die inkomste vir die 2021-’22-boekjaar wat in die inkomstegrootboek weerspieël word.

“Daar word aanbeveel dat die rekenpligtige beampte moet verseker dat die inkomste wat aangemeld word, nie moet verskil van die inkomste wat in die inkomstegrootboek gereflekteer word nie,” het die ouditeur-generaal geskryf.

Minister

VAN BL. 1

Dokumente het besonderhede aan die lig gebring oor dubbele betalings wat die plaaslike kantoor sowel as die Unesco-hoofkantoor aan die minister gemaak het, insluitend hoe die agentskap onsuksesvol probeer het om van die geld van die minister terug te kry.

Rekords toon dat die kommissie meer as N$22 000 in haar persoonlike bankrekening inbetaal het, en sy het nog US$1 000 (sowat N$18 850) van Unesco se hoofkantoor ontvang. Die fondse was haar daaglikse verbyftoelae vir haar deelname aan 'n paneelbespreking in New York op 6 en 7 Maart.

Met haar aankoms het sy glo nie haar verbyft- en reistoelaag van Unesco ontvang nie, wat haar genoop het om na die Namibië Nasionale Kommissie vir Unesco (Natcom) in Windhoek uit te reik.

Die kommissie, wat tans vanuit die ministerie se kantoor werk, het N$22 821,52 na haar Standard Bank-rekening oorgeplaas.

'n Versoekbrief om fondse oor te dra lui: 'Hierdie betaling is vir haar daaglikse verbyftoelae sowel as dié van haar assistent vir twee dae. Die geld sal aan Natcom terugbetaal word met die terugkeer van die minister.' Terwyl die minister se reis slegs vir twee dae was, het sy tot 12 Maart in New York gebly.

Volgens 'n ingeligte bron het die ministerie vir hierdie bykomende dae betaal. Luidens die verklaring kan politieke ampsdraers of personeel geleentehede op uitnodiging of as deel van die aktiwiteite verwant aan die ministerie se mandaat bywoon. Om reistoelaes te bepaal, word drie tipes uitbetaal, naamlik die regering betaal alles, die regering of gasheer betaal net verbyft, of alle koste word deur die gasheer gedek. 'n Gepaste toelaag word volgens regeringskoerse uitgewerk en direk in die reiser se rekening inbetaal.

'NIKS VERDAG'
 Alfred van Kent, die uitvoerende direkteur van hoër onderwys, het die volgende verduideliking gegee: "Wanneer geleentehede gereël word of aktiwiteite binne ons raamwerk bygewoon word, nader die staatsinstellings sowel as die ministerie mekaar om met die verwante koste te help."

Die ministerie se 'n verklaring die minister is formeel na 'n aantal geleentehede uitgenooi wat volgens die regering se interne prosesse goedgekeur en gefinansier is. Dit beklemtoon ook die verskil tussen Unesco en die Nasionale Kommissie vir Unesco (Natcom). Laasgenoemde is 'n Namibiese funksionele eenheid wat onder die ministerie val en wat volgens die verklaring "nie geld van projekte herlei het om die minister te betaal nie".

"Die ministerie wil graag die nasie verseker dat die interne administratiewe prosesse gevolg is in alle betalings wat gemaak is," het Van Kent bygevoeg.

"Die ministerie bly verbind tot die stryd teen korrupsie en om 'n etiese nasie te bou."

 "Ek sit dink aan die wit kniekoppe, en 'n bewe wat deur jou lyf tot by eerste pouse hardloop... self die oggend gewaai voor skool was maar onsmaklik in die koue."

"Dit bring my dan by gewoonde raak aan goed en somer blaat dinge begin aanvaar."

"Ons doen dit in elke area van ons lewe, ons raak eers astrap en opstandig en dan leer ons maar met dit saam leef."

"Ons kyk rondom ons en standaard is maar wat dit is, diens bestaan nie meer nie, paai se gate verniel ons bande... maar ons aanvaar maar dat dit die nuwe norm is."

"Persoonlike bande en vriendskappe word lewend gehou deur WhatsApp en sosiale media anders as die Saterdag braai en bymekaar kom, dis maar die nuwe trant... as ons dan wel bymekaar kom, is dit asof daar te min ure is 'n dag is om weer op te vang dan vra ek myself maar hoekom... hoekom 'verlang' ons mekaar, maar maak nie tyd vir mekaar nie? Hoekom aanvaar ons maar alles net terwyl ons hele menswees wil gil van frustrasie... wat het van ons 'fight' geword? Is dit ouderdom of net pure laksheid?"

"Die bene raak oud, en die koue val my aan, maar ek glo daar is nog bietjie 'fight' in my..."

"Anders verlang ek maar net julle troppie en ek weet nie lekker of drie dae genoeg was, ek wees om op te vang nie, ek voel ek het 'n halfdag met elkeen nodig."

"Mag die week gesaai wees met vrede en vreugde. Pas jouself en joune op en wees goed vir mekaar. Mooi loop... Arriewarrie."
