The tower will consist of a base transceiver station and associated infrastructure. The preferred tower height will be 48 meters in order to provide adequate transmission and reception of telecommunication service signals.

APPLICATION TO GORAM TOWN COUNCIL Notice is hereby given in terms of Clause 7 of the Town Planning Scheme of the intention to apply to the Town Council of Gobabis for special permission in respect of Er 21, Epako Prager, Gobabis, situated in Karubab Street, Gobabis, to carry on the unlicensed business on the premises: MPI Bar - Special Liquor Licence

Any person objecting to the erection and/or usage of the above mentioned buildings or against the use of land is entitled to lodge such objections in writing to the Town Council and the applicant within 14 days of the last publication of this notice.

NOTICE Take notice that DU TOIT TOWN PLANNING CONSULTANTS, on behalf of the owner of the art, Body Corporate of AM Windberg Sectional Title Scheme (SS 30/2018), in terms of the stipulations of the Urban and Regional Planning Act, 2018 (Act No.3 of 2018), intends to apply to the Windhoek City Council and the Urban and Regional Planning Board for:

- Consent to use 21B(2)(f) of Erf 1944, Jan Jonker Drive, Klein Windhoek for "Office" purposes.
- Amendment of Table C1 of the Windhoek Town Planning Scheme to rates and include the above consent.

Erf 1944, Jan Jonker Drive, Klein Windhoek is a well-known landmark in Windhoek. It is a historical dwelling that has been incorporated in an urban development consisting of a hotel, a health and wellness centre, some restaurants and also dwelling units. The erf is used "Special" and includes from the C1 of the Windhoek Town Planning Scheme to include the above function(s) excluding office use.

The Body Corporate has been using part of the erf for office purposes among other uses for some time now. It has, however, been brought to their attention that the consent for office does not reflect on Table C1 of the Windhoek Town Planning Scheme resulting in tenants' purchases being unable to obtain/ renew business certificates from the City of Windhoek. It is on this background that they applied to the City to grant them consent to use 21B(2)(f) for the office component as well as amend Table C1 to include the "Office" in the allowable uses of Erf 1944, Klein Windhoek.

The intended application is in line with the Windhoek Structure plan and sufficient parking is provided for on-site as per the City of Windhoek requirements. It should be noted that the support for consent would not result in an increase in the built floor area already in use and neither will it change anything on the character of the development as it already accommodates some office floor area.

Further take notice that the locality plan of the erf lies for inspection at the Town Planning Notice Board in the Customer Care Centre, Municipal Offices, Ben. Mubwal Scott Street, Windhoek and at the office of Du Toit Town Planning, 4 St. Kwana Namunah Avenue, Klein Windhoek.

Further take notice that any person objecting to the proposed use of land east out above may lodge such objection together with the grounds thereof with the City Council of the Urban Planner-Town House, Fifth Floor, Room 5162 and the applicant within 14 days of the last publication of this notice (final date for objections/comments is 20 November 2021).

Over poor services

SA's ANC faces tough municipal vote

Potholed roads, blocked drains, water shortages and power cuts are some of the daily realities for poor South Africans.

ALEXANDER WINNING AND SIYABONGA SISHI

In a township in South Africa's industrial heartland, raw sewage flows through the streets and into people's homes. Dilapidated infrastructure and poor services in areas that have traditionally been strongholds of the governing African National Congress (ANC) could hurt it in municipal elections.

The former liberation movement is hoping to win back metropolitan voters it lost to opposition-led conditions in 2016, when it suffered its worst election outcome since sweeping to power under Nelson Mandela in 1994.

But analysts are predicting a continued slide in the ANC's national support, possibly dipping below 50% for the first time from 54% five years ago.

"There is an respect for human dignity," said Motsumi Matsuba, a pensioner in Evaton, a township of concrete and brick houses near major steel works south of the commercial hub Johannesburg, a pool of grey sewage festering in his yard.

"It makes me wonder whether our existence is worthwhile," he added, declining to say how he will vote on Monday.

Potholed roads, blocked drains, water shortages and power cuts are some of the daily realities for poor South Africans in parts of South Africa's steel belt near the Vaal River that have historically voted ANC. Broken pipes and wastewater treatment plants, and the accompanying smell, are a reminder that 27-year-old promises of a better life for all after white minority rule ended remain unfulfilled for many.

Housing

"For many years I was still making my 'X' for ANC, but I want another party. I think ANC doesn't have that feeling for us," Mamkhiti Mbhele, a hair salon owner in the Sebokeng township whose house floods in heavy rain, told Reuters.

ANC officials say it was always going to be difficult undoing decades of apartheid-era neglect. Lesego Makubela, spokesman for the ANC caucus in the provincial legislature of Gauteng, which includes Johannesburg and surrounding areas, said hundreds of newly built houses showed efforts to improve lives were bearing fruit.

ANC leader President Cyril Ramaphosa said on the campaign trail that the party had learned from its mistakes and would ensure municipalities are well-run. It is also mired in corruption scandals and faces criticism over extreme inequality and unemployment.

Gilberto Martins, an administrator appointed to help run the municipality that includes Evaton and Sebokeng, said the rotting infrastructure was worsened by vandalism and theft. Transformers had been sabotaged, and power cables and manholes stolen.

Residents have, meanwhile, formed a movement to field candidates in Monday's elections, capitalising on dissatisfaction with the ANC.

"We are now enjoying democracy in a dump," Ernest Nkomo, one of the New Horizon Movement's candidates, said. Analysts say getting less than 30% of the municipal vote would be a psychological blow for the ANC.
