

No consent required at this stage from National Botanical Council as this area has been already used to grow maize at subsistence level by the Liselo community