COMPANY NEWS IN BRIEF

MTN PARTNERS WITH SMALL ENERGY COMPANIES
 Mobile giant MTN has partnered with energy companies in a bid to keep its communication towers running during load shedding, as the country battles ongoing power cuts. Johannesburg head-quartered enterprises, 24Solutions and SAMO Engineering have joined forces with MTN to provide additional generator capacity. The partnership aims to support network resilience in the face of power outages. News24 previously reported that SA's two biggest mobile companies - which have some 70 million customers between them - warned of the toll higher stages of load shedding was taking on their networks, as they battle battery theft and rocketing fuel costs to tackle the impact of ongoing breakdowns pummeling Eskom infrastructure. MTN said at the time that it had deployed over 2 000 generators to counter the impact of higher stages of load shedding and that it was burning through over 400 000 litres of fuel per month just to keep its generators operational. -Fin24
