Ronaldo is Man Utd's Jordan, says Solskjaer after latest rescue act

Ole Gunnar Solskjaer has said Cristiano Ronaldo is Manchester United's Jordan Pickford, after the striker scored a last-minute goal to rescue a 1-1 draw at Old Trafford.

The 36-year-old striker scored his 12th goal for the club in a 1-1 draw with Aston Villa on Tuesday. He was the only player to score in the 90 minutes, with a header from the right side of the box.

"He's our Jordan," Solskjaer said. "He's the one who saves us when we're in a bit of trouble. He's the one who gives us a lifeline when we're down to our last gasp."

Solskjaer also praised the team's performance, saying they showed "character" and "fight" in the second half.

"I think it's one of the best I've ever seen in my career," he said. "The way they came back and scored a goal in the 90th minute is just brilliant. It's a real credit to the players and the staff."

"If you can't win in 90 minutes, you have to be creative. It's not easy, but it's what you have to do. It's what you have to do to get a point when you're down to your last gasp."

Solskjaer also said he was proud of the team's performance in the second half, saying they showed "character" and "fight".

Ronaldo has been one of United's last performers of a desperate disappointing season at Old Trafford, but he was a vital part of the team's latest rescue act.

into before being sent off by a foul on him by the defender.

It was not until a corner that the atmosphere of the match changed as the players fought through the frustration with what appeared to be the return of a great injury.

It was the last-minute goal by the United captain that saved the day for the club, with the striker scoring in the 90th minute.

It was a dramatic end to the game, with the players fighting through the frustration with what appeared to be the return of a great injury.

The United fans were only too ready to celebrate the goal, with the stadium erupting in a roar of approval.

Conte arrival has raised expectations at Spurs - Lloris

Interim Tottenham manager Antonio Conte has raised expectations at the club, says captain Harry Kane.

Conte, who has previously managed Chelsea and Juventus, was appointed to replace Mauricio Pochettino after the manager was sacked after 18 months in charge.

"We're really excited about the arrival of the new manager," Kane said.

"Conte has a lot of experience in the Premier League and he's a proven winner."

"We're excited about the new manager and we're looking forward to working with him."

Manchester United's Varane ruled out for a month

Manchester United defender Raphael Varane will be ruled out for up to a month after suffering a hamstring injury, adding to the French club's problems in the Premier League.

Varane's absence is a major blow to United, who have struggled to find any form since the summer.

Varane was ruled out after suffering a hamstring injury during a training session on Tuesday.

United fans are excited to see Varane back in the squad.

The 29-year-old had only just returned to the United side in October after a long injury lay-off.

United fans are excited to see Varane back in the squad.

Now the World Cup is over, the club will hope Varane's return will help them get back to the top of the Premier League.
