Three suspected nose horn smugglers appeared in Ondangwa District Court last Monday. The men were not given bail. According to the head of the Blue Rhino Task Force, Barry de Klerk, one of the defendants, Pendapala Herman, was already on bail after a previous case in which 33 nasal horns were stolen from Outjo. The other two defendants are Michael Muronga, who belongs to the crime prevention unit of the Namibian police in Otjiwarongo, and Alfons Tjukuru. The case was adjourned until July 19.
