

WITH JUST ONE payment, GET COV... nbc (/index.php/) days OFF! LEARN MORE > mtc

T&Cs apply

Menu

HOME (/) / NODE (/NODE) / MAN ARRESTED WITH ELEPHANT TUSKS GRANTED BAIL

Like 0

(<https://www.facebook.com/sharer/sharer.php?u=https%3A%2F%2Fnbcnews.na%2Fnode%2F99438>)

(<https://twitter.com/intent/tweet?text=&url=https%3A%2F%2Fnbcnews.na%2Fnode%2F99438>)

Published
3 hours ago

A man arrested for allegedly being in possession of two elephant tusks at the Buffalo checkpoint in the Mukwe Constituency on Friday, made his first appearance in the Rundu Magistrate’s Court on Monday.

Lihako Sishwama, 31, appeared before magistrate Selma Shiiga, who granted him bail of N$10,000.

According to the charge sheet, Sishwama was arrested during a special police operation in the Mukwe Constituency.

He faces a charge of dealing in and being in possession of controlled wildlife products.

The charge sheet did not reveal the value of the two elephant tusks.

Prosecutor Michael Munika represented the State.

The case was postponed to March 14, 2023, for further police investigations.

-

Photo Credits

NAMPA

Category

JUSTICE/CRIME (/TAXONOMY/TERM/7)

Author

NAMPA

Tags

MUKWE CONSTITUENCY (/TAXONOMY/TERM/6533) BUFFALO CHECKPOINT (/TAXONOMY/TERM/10108)

ELEPHANT TUSKS (/TAXONOMY/TERM/10109) MAN (/TAXONOMY/TERM/10110) ARREST (/TAXONOMY/TERM/8086)

RUNDU MAGISTRATE'S COURT (/TAXONOMY/TERM/9986) BAIL (/TAXONOMY/TERM/6110)

SEARCH

Subscribe to our mailing list

SUBSCRIBE

RECENT NEWS

Over 500 Swakopmund residents to own decent housing (/node/99443)

Muharukua dreams of becoming a Boxing champion (/node/99442)

Cybercrime remains one of the main challenges in Namibia (/node/99441)

