WHITE RHINO BULL POACHED IN OKAHANDJA DISTRICT

A white rhino bull's carcass was found on a farm in the Okahandja district yesterday afternoon after he was initially mauled by poachers.

The crazed bull was discovered on the farm last week. Two vets visited the farm to treat the eight-year-old rhino after he was shot in the forehead by the poachers.

The owner of the farm told NMH he still flew over the farm with his gyrocopter around 8pm on Sunday and saw the bull alive.

"At about 12:00 on Monday, I discovered his carcass — more or less in the same place as where he was Sunday night — as well as the footprints of the poachers," the owner said.

Members of the Blue Rhino task force are on their way to the farm to investigate the matter. - francoise@nmh.com.na
