WILDLIFE CRIME is an economic crime against local communities and the nation.

Pangolins are extremely useful animals and they are harmless to people. They eat only ants and termites and a single pangolin can eat billions of these insects per year. Pangolins reduce the impact of these insects on grasslands and crops, as well as on fence poles, homesteads and other infrastructure. This also means farmers have more grazing for their livestock with pangolins present. They provide a natural pest control for the environment. Pangolins are protected in Namibia and throughout their entire range. Local and international trade in pangolins is prohibited. Collecting or killing pangolins, as well as trade in pangolin parts, is against the law in Namibia and punished with severe prison sentences.
