Wolves sign 'fastest player in Serie A' Tchatchoua

CAMEROON defender Jackson Tchatchoua, hailed as the fastest player in Serie A last season, has joined Premier League Wolverhampton Wanderers from Italian side Hellas Verona on a five-year deal.

Wolves said the deal for the Belgium-born right wing-back included a 12-month option.

No financial details were given but the BBC put a €12.5 million price tag on the signing.

Tchatchoua was recorded hitting a speed of 36.3kph last season, according to the club, and scored two goals with three assists.

The 23-year-old is Wolves' fourth new signing of the transfer window.

"The Premier League is one of my dreams and it's one step that I want to do in my life, and also the history of the club, the stadium, the fans, this convinced me," he said.

Spurs' Tel says he won't let racial abuse bring him down

Tottenham Hotspur forward Mathys Tel said he would not allow the racial abuse directed at him online following his side's UEFA Super Cup defeat by Paris St-Germain to bring him down.

Spurs said they were "disturbed" by the abuse aimed at the 20-year-old Frenchman, who missed a spot-kick during their penalty shootout defeat by PSG in Italy last Wednesday.

"I was also disappointed about Wednesday night, but racism has no place in our society," Tel posted on social media on Tuesday.

"I know where I come from, where I started and none of this will bring me down. With work and humility, respect reigns."

Bournemouth forward Antoine Semenyo was also subjected to racist abuse during his side's 4-2 defeat by Liverpool at Anfield on Friday. A 47-year-old man from Liverpool, who was arrested on suspicion of racially abusing Semenyo, has been conditionally bailed and banned from attending soccer matches. -SuperSport
